Let the Sunshine In - Open Up Your Heart v4

Stuart Hamblen, 1954, as sung by Pebbles and Bambam, 1965

Intro: [G] [D7] [G] [G]

[G] My mom told me [C] something that [G] every-one should [G] know,
It is [D7] all about the [D7] devil and I've [G] learned to hate him [G] so.
She [G] said he causes [C] trouble when you [G] let him in the [G] room,
He will [D7] never ever [D7] leave you if your [G/D7] heart is filled with [G] gloom.

Chorus: So let the [C] sunshine [C] in, [G] face it with a [G] grin,
[D7] smilers never [D7] lose, and [G] frowners never [G] win.
So let the [C] sunshine [C] in, [G] face it with a [G] grin,
[D7] open up your [D7] heart and let the [G/D7] sunshine [G] in.

[G] When you are [C] unhappy the [G] devil wears a [G] grin,
But [D7] oh, he starts to [D7] running when the [G] light comes pouring [G] in.
I [G] know he'll be [C] unhappy cause I'll [G] never wear a [G] frown,
Maybe if [D7] we keep on [D7] smiling he'll get [G/D7] tired of hanging [G] 'round.

Chorus: So let the [C] sunshine [C] in, [G] face it with a [G] grin,
[D7] smilers never [D7] lose, and [G] frowners never [G] win.
So let the [C] sunshine [C] in, [G] face it with a [G] grin,
[D7] open up your [D7] heart and let the [G/D7] sunshine [G] in.

If [G] I forget to [C] say my prayers the [G] devil jumps with [G] glee,
But he [D7] feels so awful, [D7] awful when he [G] sees me on my [G] knees.
So [G] if you're full of [C] trouble and you [G] never seem to [G] win,
Just [D7] open up your [D7] heart and let the [G/D7] sunshine [G] in.

Chorus: So let the [C] sunshine [C] in, [G] face it with a [G] grin,
[D7] smilers never [D7] lose, and [G] frowners never [G] win.
So let the [C] sunshine [C] in, [G] face it with a [G] grin,
[D7] open up your [D7] heart and let the [G] sunnnnn [D7] shinnnnne [G] innnnnn. [G] [G↓]
